

Website Name: Artscovery (like art + discovery)

About: The website is an open space for new and beginner artists. The website will include art tutorials, helpful books and websites, a community page where people can send their art to be featured, art contests, and more. I want the website to be a welcoming space for all new artists regardless of age, background, or artistic knowledge. The website's tutorials will be small pieces of bigger pictures, rather than drawing something all at once. (This is how I learn best, so I want to implement that.) I obviously want to keep the website free and fully accessible to anyone.

Page Names:

- Home
- Tutorials
- Contests
- Community Page
- Helpful Resources
- About Us